

The golden treasury of Australian verse

When An Anthology of Australian Verse was prepared for publication in 1906 the Editor was unable to obtain permission to use certain copyright poems which he wished to include. Since then the restrictions have been generously removed; it has therefore been possible to revise the original selection, and to make it more thoroughly representative of the best short poems written by Australians or inspired by the scenery and conditions of life in Australia and New Zealand. A few poems have been included by writers whose residence here has given their work an Australian interest. The arrangement is as nearly as possible chronological; and the appendix contains notes on the poems, together with brief biographical particulars and an index to the authors quoted. In some cases parts of the original poems have been omitted, and the omissions indicated by asterisks. The arrangement of stanzas in Where the Dead Men Lie has been altered. The Editor specially thanks the Bulletin Newspaper Co., Ltd., for permission to quote from the poems of the late Barcroft Boake and Victor Daley; also from those of A. H. Adams, A. D. Bayldon, E. J. Brady, C. Brennan, J. Le Gay Brereton, H. Church, A. E. Currie, Mrs. Curlewis, Mrs. Creed, Mrs. Gilmore, (Typographical errors above are due to OCR software and do not occur in the book.)
